WILSON ADMINISTRATION PARTISAN

PRESIDENT WILSON'S publicity bureau says that "Patriotism under Mr. Wilson has replaced the old spirit of partisanship."

But when and how? In his Indianapolis speech more than a year ago, Wilson made an intensely partisan speech, though posing as the president of all the people, and asserted that the republican party has not had a new idea for thirty years, although all the constructive legislation for thirty years had been enacted by republican administrations. In his recent speech in North Carolina, Wilson said that the republicans are backward looking people. He has lost no opportunity to assail the intelligence of the republicans. He has filled the appointive offices with democrats, and when he did not then have places enough to go around, he set aside provisions of the civil service law and placed democrats in office by executive order over the protest of the civil service commission. He threw out of office men who had grown up in the foreign diplomatic service, in order to give the places to deserving democrats with neither experience nor special fitness for the offices.

If patriotism has replaced partisanship in the Wilson administration, please tell us when and where and how.

HOW TO LOOK WELL DRESSED

IN the June American Magazine is an account of one of the most successful insurance solicitors in the country, who attributes a large part of his success to the fact that he always looks well dressed and prosperous.

"If you have only one suit of clothes, keep that one suit clean and pressed all the time," he says. "Press your trousers yourself every day if necessary. I have pressed my trousers lots of times. Keep your shoes shined."

"If you can afford several suits, change off from one suit to another frequently, and keep all of them spotless and well pressed. I never wear a suit longer than the second day at a time. To change every day is better. It gives the clothes a chance to 'rest.' I always hang my clothes on hangers the minute I take them off. It gives them a chance to 'come back' into shape and the nap to come up again."

"It is a great economy to have lots of good clothes. A suit will last twice and three times as long and always look well if you keep changing off from one to another. Besides, people get tired of seeing a man in the same suit day after day for a whole season."

Co-Operative Cattle Mart Plan Is Explained by Dep't

Farmers' livestock shipping associations have proved so successful that, although the first was not formed until 1908, the department of agriculture now has a list of approximately 500 that are shipping stock in a co-operative way. About 200 of these are in Minnesota, where the movement started, and the remainder are chiefly in the Middle West.

The main purpose of these associations is to enable their members to ship in carload lots to the central markets instead of being more or less at the mercy of local buyers in disposing of a few animals from time to time. The fact that no capital is required for the organization of such an association, says a new publication of the department, Farmers' Bulletin 718, which deals with this subject, makes these associations possible in communities in which more complicated forms of co-operation would not succeed.

The bulletin, however, points out that such associations are scarcely practicable in regions where there is so much livestock that it is generally marketed in carload lots under any circumstances or where there is so little that the association has practically nothing with which to work.

To organize such an association it is necessary only for the farmers of the community to meet together, adopt a simple constitution and by-laws, a sample of which is given in the bulletin already mentioned, to elect officers, and, in turn, for them to appoint a manager. It is recommended, although it is not absolutely necessary, that the organization incorporate. This can be done at a nominal cost—usually not more than $10.

For this small expenditure of trouble and money the association usually enables the farmer to market his stock when it is ready instead of compelling him to wait until the local shipper is ready to buy it. He obtains for himself the benefits of the cheaper carload transportation, and the shipments of the association realize for the owner the market price of his stock less the actual cost of marketing. In particular, it has been found that when thin stock, calves, or lambs are sold in small numbers, the local price is usually very low. It is on this class of stock that the associations have been able to save their members much money.

In order to avoid misunderstanding, it is important that all stock be marketed at the shipping point. This precaution prevents disputes in regard to shrinkage and dockage and assists in making adjustments in case of loss or damage in transit.

There are three common methods of marking. Numbers or other characters may be clipped in some conspicuous part of the animal, paint may be employed, or numbered ear tags used.

The last method is the least frequent because it is somewhat difficult

A Woman's Back

The Advice of This Klamath Falls Woman Is of Certain Value

Many a woman's back has many aches and pains.

Often it's the kidneys' fault. That's why Doan's Kidney Pills are so effective.

Many Klamath Falls women know this.

Read what one has to say about it: Mrs. O. C. Lorenz, 1129 Lincoln street, Klamath Falls, says: "I used to suffer a great deal from a dull pain across my kidneys. At times, my back ached so badly that I could hardly work. Whenever I overdid or strained my back, I was in greater misery than ever. My kidneys were also more or less irregular in action. I finally began using Doan's Kidney Pills, and they overcame the trouble in my back. In every way, now, I am a strong, healthy woman."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same Mrs. Lorenz had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Dearest Public:

We have with us today Mr. H. A. Davis of Switzerland, New York and San Francisco, who will be with us as long as we can pay him the wages.

Mr. Davis is a watchmaker of repute, and has years of experience, being one of the inspectors of the Waltham watch factory.

If your diamond needs re-setting we can do it while you wait, and it's a real job when it's finished.

Say, girls, if you are going to be the permanent slave for June, you'd better get busy. Get right up in his lap and stay till it takes on him. We have a stock of diamonds from ten to three hundred and fifty dollars, and we can work the wires and go stronger.

Big stock of slavery rings.

Why don't you come in and see the tea tumblers and spoons?

I am telling you right, they are class for the price, $4.00.

Some times you make me as happy as if I had my leg broke.

The very idea of going home with flour and not a diamond in the house. Don't forget us when your watch goes on the bum.

No, Eve, we don't put ribs in umbrellas, we recover them.

I don't mean recover (taken by mistake).

I shall appreciate your patronage, but don't take too long.

I love you, and you can't help yourself.
